DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, drawn to figures 1-7 in the reply filed on June 22, 2006 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the Applicants' believes that it would not be unreasonably burdensome for the Examiner to consider all of the claims as originally filed. This is not found persuasive because the search necessary for examination of embodiment described in Group I is not necessary for the examination of the embodiment described in remaining Groups.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 6, 7, 10, 11, 17, 18, and 23-26 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Objections

In claim 1, line 9, the phrase "the top and bottom portions" lacks antecedent basis. The examiner will consider favorably the "the top and lower portion".

In claim 4, line 2 and claim 13, line 3, the phrase "a perimeter" should read "the perimeter".

In claim 16, line 2, the phrase "the inner surface" lacks antecedent basis.

In claim 20, line 8, the phrase "first display window" should read "the display window".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3, 7-9, 12, 14, 15, and 19 are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Livingston, U. S. Patent 1,877,919.

5. With respect to claims 1 and 12, Livingston teaches a nameplate comprising a base (flat glass panel 1) having an inner surface and at least one display window (transparent face 1^a, line 56) disposed inside a perimeter of the base. Livingston also teaches one recessed portion (3) disposed on the inner surface of the base adjacent to the display window (figure 3), a plurality of tiles (plates 5) having an upper side and a lower side, and a tile carrier (holder 4) having a top and lower portion (flanges 4^a), wherein the tiles are retained in the tile carrier 4 by engagement of the upper and lower sides of the tiles with the top and bottom portions of the tile carrier (holder 4). The tile carrier (holder 4) is configured to be retentively engaged by the at least one recessed portion when the tile carrier (holder 4) is disposed therein. (see figure 3, lines 57-60).
6. With respect to claim 2, Livingston the top and lower portion 4^a of the tile carrier (holder 4) each include a channel.
7. With respect to claim 3, the plurality of tiles (plates 5) are slideably engage the channels.
8. With respect to claim 7, base is frame.

9. With respect to claims 8 and 19, Livingston teaches an overlay having a rear surface adjacent an outer surface of the base. The overlay comprises a coating of paint or reflective enamel. See lines 84-86.
10. With respect to claims 9 and 15, the recessed portion 3 is disposed adjacent an upper edge and a lower edge of the display window 1^a.
11. With respect to claim 14, the display window 1^a includes a recessed portion 3 disposed on an inner surface of the base. See figure 3.
12. Claims 1-5, 7-8, 12-16, 19, 21, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ramsay, U. S. Patent 4,682,430.
13. With respect to claims 1, 12, 20, and 21, Ramsay teaches price chip support strip comprising a base (frame panel 38) having an inner surface and two display windows (40) disposed inside a perimeter of the base; a recessed portion (upper and lower tacks 37) disposed on the inner surface of the base adjacent the display windows; a plurality of tiles (price chips 21) having an upper side and a lower side; and a tile carrier (price chip support strip 20) having a top portion and a lower portion. The tiles 21 are retained in the tile carrier 20 by engagement of the upper and lower sides of the plurality of tiles 21 with the top (shoulder 36, ledge 31) and bottom portions (ledge 30) of the tile carrier and wherein the tile carrier 20 is configured to be retentively engaged by the recessed portions when the tile carrier 20 is disposed therein.

14. With respect to claim 20, the method limitation are inherent in the teaching of Ramsay.

15. With respect to claims 2 and 3, the bend ledge portion 30 and 31 corresponds to channel of the top and lower portion.

16. With respect to claims 4 and 14, Ramsay teaches a first and second display window 40 disposed inside a perimeter of the base adapted to receive an image. See figure 1.

17. With respect to claim 5, each of the first and second display windows include a recessed portion (upper and lower tacks 37) disposed on the inner surface of the base 38 adjacent to the display window.

18. With respect to claims 7 and 17, the base is a photo frame.

19. With respect to claims 8 and 19, Ramsay teaches an overlay (opaque mask 39 on the forward face of the base (transparent frame panel 38) defining windows 40. See column 3, lines 31-37). The opaque has a rear surface adjacent an outer surface or forward surface of the base 38.

20. With respect to claims 9, 16, and 15, Ramsay teaches the recessed portion 37 is disposed adjacent an upper edge and a lower edge of the first and second display window 40.

21. With respect to claim 13, Ramsay teaches a first and second window disposed inside a perimeter of the base adapted to receive an image.

Conclusion

22. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following U. S. Patents are cited to show display frame for display a plurality of tiles within a holder: Morris - 3,565, Porstner et al. - 1,770,803, and Wishinsky - 2,195,042.
